St Valentine's Day

The carnival is ending. The days are short. It is February. Still, there is a special day in the middle of this month, on 14th February. This holiday is called St Valentine's Day. It is the Day of Lovers.

The day got its name from Valentinus – a saint who lived in the 3rd century. He helped the Christians persecuted by the Romans. The Roman Emperor put Valentine in prison. Valentine did not want to believe in pagan gods so the Emperor ordered his soldiers to kill him. On 14th February Valentine wrote a farewell letter to his friend and signed it 'From your Valentine'. He died the same day.

There is also a legend which says that 14th February is the day when birds choose their partners. That is why people named the day the Day of Lovers.

Today, people in Britain, the USA and many other countries celebrate St Valentine's Day. They send valentine cards, called valentines, flowers and gifts to their sweethearts and friends. Valentine cards must be anonymous.

Irish Coffee recipe

Sip the hot coffee/whiskey mixture through the cream so that you get a mustache of cream around your lips as you drink. Irish or Gaelic coffee is served in restaurants and homes throughout England.

- 4 teaspoons light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup Irish whiskey (Jamison or Paddy's)
- 3 1/2 cups coffee, freshly brewed and hot
- 8 ounces heavy cream, chilled and slightly whipped to pouring consistency

In each of 4 stem wine glasses, warmed slightly, place a teaspoon of sugar, then stir in 2 tablespoons of whiskey. Now stir in the coffee, leaving 1/2 inch clear at the top. Stir each glassful so that the sugar gets dissolved. Position the cup of a teaspoon so that it is just below the surface of the coffee mixture. Pour on the cream so that the flow hits the spoon. The spoon will help to disperse the cream so that 1/2 inch of cream will rest on the top. Serve immediately.

Tea recipe
Use a proper china pot. Warm the pot. Using fresh water, pour onto China, Indian or Ceylon (Sri Lanka) tea leaves. Use one teaspoon of tea leaves per person and one teaspoon for the pot. Leave the tea to brew for 5 minutes (no longer), then serve with milk or lemon. Filter off the leaves when pouring by using a tea strainer.

List z przeprosinami (letter of apology)

Saint Patrick's Day (Irish: Lá 'le Pádraig or Lá Fhásile Pádraig), colloquially - but to some a derogatory term - Paddy's Day, is the feast day which annually celebrates Saint Patrick (386-493), the patron saint of Ireland, on March 17. It is the national holiday and one of the public holidays in the Republic of Ireland (a bank holiday in Northern Ireland); the overseas territory of Montserrat; and the Canadian province of Newfoundland and Labrador. In the United States it is widely celebrated, although not an official holiday.

a to tak w skrocie :) :

Dzień Świętego Patryka (ang. Saint Patrick's Day, irl. Lá 'le Pádraig lub Lá Fhásile Pádraig) - irlandzkie święto narodowe obchodzone 17 marca. Święto patrona Irlandii - św. Patryka. Święto obchodzone jest również poza Irlandią, także w Polsce, co jest związane z popularnością kultury celtyckiej oraz spożyciem tradycyjnego irlandzkiego piwa.

Kolor zielony

Tradycją dnia św. Patryka jest kolor zielony (jest to kolor kojarzony z Irlandią - "zieloną wyspą"). W tym dniu uczniowie ubierają się na zielono, a kto nie ma na sobie takiego koloru jest szczypany przez innych. Pije się irlandzkie piwo zabarwione na zielono, gotuje zielone potrawy, czasem nawet barwi na zielono rzeki.
